

MANN ATTACKS ATTORNEY GENERAL

Republican Leader Criticizes McReynolds for Postponing White Slave Cases

MAKES VIGOROUS SPEECH

Says President and McReynolds Got Away Like Rabbits When Case Was Brought Up

RAPS NEW CABINET OFFICERS

WASHINGTON, June 26.—In a vigorous speech in the house today Representative Mann of Illinois, the Republican leader attacked Attorney General McReynolds, for postponing the white slave cases in San Francisco; criticized Commissioner General Caminetti of the immigration bureau, father of one of the defendants and declared that District Attorney McNabb had "made the president and attorney general not only to beg the question but to eat their words."

"Frightened rabbits never got away quicker than the president and the attorney general when this matter was brought up."

Mr. Mann declared that the president and the attorney general had "permitted themselves to be used to prevent the enforcement of a great moral reform law," and insisted that the administration excuse for the postponement, "offered to ease ignominy upon one official in the department of justice who has bravery, courage and knowledge of how to do things," was worse than the offense.

"The younger Caminetti is a youthful boy of 27 years, with, I believe, several children," he continued, "and it was desirable to have his father at the trial to protect him in his guileless innocence, having only seven lawyers to do so. His father had been appointed commissioner of immigration, one of the duties of which office is to enforce both the Mann and Bennett white slave laws in reference to the deportation of aliens brought here for prostitution—a fine man to place in that position, whose principal object is to leave his office in order to go to the side of his 27-year old son under trial for white slave offense. The action now taken is pure hypocrisy. Manliness, such as I would have expected from the Christian, moral gentleman occupying the white house, would have required him to ask the district attorney to withdraw his resignation and try these cases, he being most familiar with them. They have accepted the resignation of the district attorney and dismissed the officer who worked up these cases. I suspect the elder Caminetti and possibly the junior Caminetti may be quite willing to have the case speedily tried when the few men who were familiar with the case and who have worked it up are fired out of the service, before any one else has time to learn all the circumstances of the case."

Criticizes New Officers.
Mr. Mann charged that the new cabinet officers seemed to have an exaggerated importance in their own eyes and an exaggerated idea of the influence of each.

"A former member of this house, (Secretary Wilson)," he said "telephones to the attorney general's office and the attorney general says that 'without stopping to go through the files and so offer him my recollection concerning any particular circumstances of the case I sent the following telegram to the district attorney ordering him to postpone the case.'"

"What sort of a department of justice is it? What kind of an attorney general is it? No doubt the attorney is a great lawyer and a great man. But if the Democratic administration intends to proceed upon the theory that when a cabinet officer telephones the attorney general or when some wealthy defendant, as has happened in the Western Fuel case into the office of the attorney general and asks to have a case postponed, it is done, there will not be many Democratic administrations in the next hundred years."

Thomas J. Hayden and Matt J. Sullivan were chosen by the administration late today to prosecute the Caminetti-Diggs and Western Fuel company cases. Francis J. Heney, whose name has been mentioned in its connection, was not selected as one of the prosecutors.

TESTIMONY WILL END TODAY.

Chicago, June 26.—Taking testimony in the government's suit to dissolve the International Harvester company under the Sherman act will end tomorrow. After the Harvester company puts on its last witness tomorrow in support of its defense that it has not attempted to stifle competition, the special assistant to the attorney general Mr. Grosvenor will call several witnesses. One of these witnesses, according to Mr. Grosvenor will give testimony that will be a surprise. Hearings in the case have been in progress for nearly a year in different cities.

INTRODUCES CURRENCY BILL IN BOTH HOUSES

SEVERAL CHANGES HAVE BEEN MADE IN MEASURE

Bill Is Referred in House to the Banking and Currency Committee—Committee Will Begin Its Deliberations Today.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The administration currency bill was introduced in the senate today by Senator Owen in the house by Representative Glass the banking and currency committee chairman. The house immediately referred the measure to the banking and currency committee and preparations were made for the committee to begin its deliberations tomorrow. Several changes had been made in the bill as the result of the numerous conferences in which President Wilson, democrats of the house and senate committees, treasury department officials and committees of bankers took part, following the publication of the proposed measure several days ago. The changes embodied some of the suggestions made by those interested in the legislation.

However, despite earnest appeals that the federal reserve board to control the proposed new currency system be increased and that the bank's be given representation, no change in this provision was made, the board will consist of seven men to be appointed by the president. In the senate, Senator Cummins contemplates proposing an amendment which would make the board an elective body. Re-inserted in the bill was the original proposition for retiring the present bank notes within 20 years and the substitution of additional federal reserve notes for them. This eliminates the proposed limit of $500,000,000 in reserve notes contained in the bill as originally made public. In replacing the bank notes the government two percent bonds used to pay the interest now issued would be refunded by three per cent bonds without the circulation privilege.

Chairman Glass made preparations for the speedy consideration of the bill by the house committee. He secured the passage through the house of two resolutions to facilitate the work. One provided for the printing and distribution of 25,000 copies of the new bill. The other which was passed after a partisan discussion provided $5,000 for the payment of experts to be employed by the committee.

At tomorrow's meeting the committee continue the question of holding public hearings on the bill. Senator Weeks of Massachusetts, a Republican member of the senate currency committee and a former member of the national monetary commission issued a statement to day in which he urged immediate action toward currency reform but criticized certain features of the new administration bill.

TO ARM WILSON WITH TARIFF "BIG STICK"

Finance Committee Expresses Desire to Give Executive More Power

COUNTERVAILING DUTY

Amendment Would Give President Power to Enforce Countervailing Tariff Rates

HAS STRONG OPPOSITION

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Urgent desire to arm the president with a tariff "big stick" one of stronger and greater proportions than that provided in the amendment suggested by the finance committee majority developed today in the Democratic caucus of the senate on the tariff bill.

Discussion of the proposed countervailing duty on wheat and flour, which the committee recommended, led to a general debate on retaliatory and countervailing tariff rates and Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia urgently advocated the adoption of an amendment that would give the president power to enforce countervailing tariff rates on all commodities of commerce against any nation refusing to deal with the United States on a reciprocal tariff basis. The amendment proposed would, in many respects, take the place of the maximum and minimum clause of the Payne-Aldrich law, but Senator Smith advocated a provision that would be broader than that, one that would give the president the authority at any time, to "interpose against any nation which might discriminate against the products of the United States, the same tariff rates exacted on American goods. Such a clause in the tariff bill, it was argued, would place the United States in a position to defend the country against any unreciprocal action or attempt to shut off its foreign trade. Discussion of the proposed amendment was spirited, strong opposition developing at once. Among the senators who attacked the idea were O'Gorman, Reed and Martine. Debate was waxing warm when the caucus was forced to recess for the afternoon session of the committee and resumed tonight.

Seek to Extend Time.
After the battle over free sugar and free wool had been won yesterday by the administration forces, senators opposed to the schedules proposed renewed their activities for an amendment which would extend the time when the sugar and wool schedules are to become effective after the passage of the act. Senator Ransdell has an amendment to extend the date of the sugar schedule until Feb. 1, 1914, permitting sugar planters and refiners to get rid of this year's crop without the burden of the tariff. This has been referred to the majority of the finance committee for consideration. The committee will recommend some form of amendment later to the caucus. Other suggestions propose to suspend the operation of the sugar duties for three months after the passage of the bill and that the rates of manufactures of wool be made effective ninety days and the free wool provision sixty days after enactment of the law.

Among the nominations made to day by President Wilson are the following: Ministers—Albert G. Schmedemann, Wisconsin to Norway; Benton McMillen, Tennessee to Peru; Consul at Milan Italy, Nathaniel B. Had Not Heard Report.
Washington, June 26.—Officials of the department of justice tonight had not heard of the report that Jack Johnson had left the country. They were interested in the rumor, but will wait word from Chicago before taking any steps.

CAIRO CHEAPEST PLACE IN THE WORLD FOR SEAMAN TO DIE

Funeral in Southern Illinois Town Will Only Cost Fifty Cents—Cheapest Place to Be Sick in Bridgeport, Conn.

Washington, June 26.—The cheapest place in the world for a seaman to die is Cairo, Ill., where his funeral will cost him only fifty cents, according to contracts let today by the United States public health service covering the entire country and serving as an index to the high or low cost of illness or death.

The cheapest place for the seaman to be sick is Bridgeport, Conn., where the government has secured a contract for medical attention and nursing at 72 cents a day. In other parts of the country the cost ranges from one to three dollars per day. The cost of funerals varies from 50 cents in Cairo to $3.99 in Superior, Wis.; $34 in San Francisco; $35 in Chicago; $36 in Philadelphia; $50 in Ketchikan, Alaska.

Officials explain that the low cost in many cities is due to the fact that seaman's relief stations are located there and the only service the contract undertaker performs is to turn the body over to the relief organization for burial.

DISCUSSES RELATION OF POPULAR GOVERNMENT TO BUSINESS

Former President Taft Delivers Address at Dedication of New Home of Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce.

Cincinnati, O., June 26.—Taking as his subject the relation of popular government to business, former President William Howard Taft, professor at Yale University to day delivered the principal address at the dedication of the new home of the chamber of commerce of this city.

"The reformers apparently ignore the necessity for economy and efficiency in the administration of public affairs," he said. "These supposed reformers are so radical that the fear of many is that the extreme will be reached which will destroy the permanence of popular government and also individual liberties."

In speaking of the initiative, referendum and recall he said: "If we find as we are sure to find, that the initiative and the referendum and the recall will practically destroy representative government to the extent of placing power in the hands of a dwindling and not wise minority, we will find it through hard experience. But the people may be entrusted to retrace their steps and come back to the representative and popular government plan."

BOY SCOUTS RELAY MESSAGE.

Toledo, June 27.—Toledo boy scouts delivered the president's message which is being relayed to Chicago, at Woodville, at 12 o'clock tonight on schedule time. Twenty runners were used by the Toledo officials to relay the message to Swanton. They were started at 2 o'clock nearly half hour before scheduled time.

South Bend, Ind., is the next large city on the tour where the message will be received. The distance from Toledo to that city is 164 miles.

A general amendment. Resolutions were adopted to have daily caucus consideration of the bill and by this means it is hoped to get the measure before the senate next week.

At a meeting tonight of the majority members of the finance committee no agreement was reported as to the time for making a sugar and wool schedules effective.

DUNNE APPROVES FORTY ONE BILLS

Begins Day's Work by Signing Woman's Suffrage Measure

O.K.'S PUBLIC OWNERSHIP

Governor Concludes Day by Affixing Signature to Public Ownership Bill

WILL SIGN GOOD ROADS BILL

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 26.—Governor Dunne concluded the day, began with the signing of the woman's suffrage bill this morning, by affixing his signature to the public ownership bill, the Chicago teacher's pension fund act and the amendment to the Chicago firemen's pension fund law. In all, Governor Dunne approved forty-one bills during the day.

In the opinion of the executive the public ownership bill is equally as important as the woman's suffrage bill, the utility bill or the good roads bill, even though it did not attract great public attention when going through the two houses of the legislature. The public ownership bill gives municipalities power to acquire, own and operate any public utility, the product or service of which is to be supplied to the inhabitants of the municipality.

The provisions of the public ownership act are so broad that a municipality may purchase light, heat or water from a private corporation or re-sell the service to private consumers.

The firemen's pension fund gives the retired firemen or pensioners representation on the board of trustees of the pension fund by adding one trustee and fixes the term of service at twenty years, instead of twenty-two years, at which a fireman may be pensioned.

Among the bills signed today was Senator Magill's amendment to the general election law, making Lincoln in tents furnished by the state of Illinois. The election of officers takes place tomorrow with a spirited contest on for department commander, an office at present held by Adjutant General Frank Dickson of the Illinois national guards.

Candidates for commander are: Carl McKee, Joliet; Charles L. Daniels, Chicago and Bernard J. Baumer, Chicago.

The Philippine corps, a branch organization today elected the following officers: President—Bert R. Hall, Streator. First vice-president—Edward H. White, Chicago.

Second vice-president—William McCrotty, Springfield. Secretary—Ray H. Schoenfeld, Chicago.

Treasurer—Jere Laughlin, Chicago. The encampment closes Saturday with a parade and camp-fire.

GARFIELD TESTIFIES FOR DEFENSE AT STEEL CORPORATION HEARINGS

States He Reported to Roosevelt in 1907 That in His Investigation He Had Not Found Anything That Would Call for Prosecution.

New York, June 26.—James R. Garfield, commissioner of corporations during the Roosevelt administration, testified today for the defense in the hearings of the government dissolution suit against the United States Steel corporation. He described the investigation of the corporation which he began at the behest of President Roosevelt in 1905, and said that he had reported to the president in 1907 that he had not found anything that would call for prosecution of the corporation. This was when the president consulted him relative to the proposed purchase of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company by the corporation which Mr. Roosevelt subsequently sanctioned.

Mr. Garfield said he had made other verbal reports to the president on the results of his inquiries "in full detail."

The witness declared that Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the corporation, had agreed in the presence of himself and President Roosevelt to supply all the information asked for by the bureau. He said his investigation was thorough and that the steel corporation did not put any obstacles in his way or refuse any books or records.

On cross-examination by Jacob Dickinson, the government attorney, Mr. Garfield said he had never examined witnesses under oath during his investigation, although he had a right to do so. Neither had he examined the minutes of the corporation which the government has put in evidence in the presentment.

"My Gary told me," the witness added, "that he knew of no such thing as the corporation obtaining relatives and offered to root out any such practices that could be found."

The hearing was adjourned until October.

TELL EFFORT TO GOLD BRICK WALL STREET

Story Told to Senate "Lobby" Investigating Committee

REP. PALMER ON STAND

Rep. Palmer of Pennsylvania Tells How Attempt Was Foiled --Lauterbach Testifies

EVIDENCE IS SENSATIONAL

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The story of an effort to sell a gold brick to Wall street and how it was foiled, was told in part to the senate "lobby" investigating committee tonight at one of the most sensational productions since it started its stormy career.

It was a tale of how influence was to be exerted in the seats of the doings of the street of how law favorable investigations into the doings of the street of how law suits that the financial interests in New York would not like were to be prevented and of how the gold brick seller was generally to protect the interests of the clients he sought in the political game in the capital.

Representative A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania one of the prominent Democrats in the house mentioned for Secretary of war in the inauguration days and a close friend of the president told the story and Edward Lauterbach, a New York lawyer and Representative Daniel J. Rioridan of New York gave the committee some light on its details.

According to Mr. Palmer, a New York lawyer was the man largely instrumental in foiling the plot. The name of the man who proposed to do all these things in Washington was not given to the committee although Mr. Palmer acknowledged that he had strong suspicions as to the identity of the party.

Mr. Palmer told the committee that the representations of influence in Washington had gone so far as to bring in the names of the speaker, of the majority in the house and of at least two other prominent members whose names he did not give. He said that after Mr. Ledyard had engaged in many telephone conversations with the man who had these goods for sale in Washington, he had met Edward Lauterbach, a New York attorney under the supposition that Lauterbach was representing the majority in the house and of at least two other prominent members whose names he did not give. INTEREST DEEPENS IN CONVENTION PROGRAM

WORKERS FOR BLIND DECLARE THIS BEST MEETING THEY HAVE HELD.

Graduates Asked to Point to Flaws in Educational System—Committee Report on Uniform Type System Approved—Business Session Will be Held Today.

The interest manifest Thursday, the third day of the convention of the American Association of Workers for the Blind, in session at the Illinois School for the Blind, ranks it with the famous convention at Overbrook, Pa., in 1911. The work of the uniform type committee appointed at that convention was endorsed and the existence of this committee was continued. Resolutions making this action were passed at the evening session in the chapel of the institution after a long discussion.

The work of the field trainer and home teacher and the School for the Blind as viewed by its graduates formed subjects of discussion. Speeches from delegates from a convention of officials in session at Springfield were also heard at the forenoon session.

Home Instruction for the Blind.

The session at 9:30 Thursday morning was begun by a consideration of the problem of the field worker, his training and qualifications and the training of the blind at home. A committee appointed at Overbrook consisting of Livio Delino, chairman; W. Scandlin and Edward E. Allen had prepared the report on the question, "What specific training is needed for the field worker and how can it be supplied?" A few extracts follow from the paper, which was read by Mr. Allen:

"A Field Worker should be expected to go into the homes of the blind, whether young or old, and inspire them with confidence and the possibility of useful employment, not necessarily remunerative—reading and to be helpful about the house. A Field Worker should be competent to teach any branch of the work that may be deemed desirable to be taught to the blind in any particular state. A Field Worker should be thoroughly conversant with charitable organizations, so that he or she can enlist the co-operation of such societies whenever their help is needed. A successful Field Worker must be optimistic, tactful, a good listener, but as deep as a well after hearing many things." Another added: "The investigation of all cases which may come to notice and a full knowledge of all agencies which may be able to give assistance."

The point is also made that information gathered in field work or home teaching is confidential. It may be used, impersonally, as inspiration but never as gossip.

Another adds the important point that the worker, especially the male worker, should be able to travel alone when necessary, in order to instill confidence in others and stimulate them to self-help.

"The Field Worker and the Home Teacher are distinctive, and while the Home Teacher should be blind, the Field Worker should be sighted."

"Unless one officer fills both positions, the Field Worker should not teach and will not call repeatedly on the same case."

"In most cases there should be no distinction made between a Field Worker and Home Teacher, the duties of both should be combined, except where the territory is too large to be covered by one person."

What Home Training Should Accomplish

The question is often asked as to what home training should accomplish. It has been defined as instruction in reading and writing and such simple forms of handicraft as may prove a space in unoccupied hours.

Depending upon the needs of the individual, industrial instruction suitable to sex, environment, previous occupation, etc. Pencil writing; embodied reading and writing; usefulness in home duties, according to sex, and adaptation to blindness in development of touch and hearing or even taste and smell, as substitutes for sight. Care of person and table etiquette with means of personal service at table. How to get about without awkwardness or collision with obstructions. Under rare conditions both of teacher and pupil, study of music. Typewriting; teaching of family to point of trust helplessness; the inspiration of everyone concerned with cheerful acceptance of the inevitable and determination to make good under restricted conditions."

Discussion on Field Work. A discussion followed the reading of this report, begun by Mr. Scandlin on behalf of the work of the committee. He spoke of the way in which the matter for the paper had been found and compiled. Mrs. E. B. Palmer of Cleveland, O., emphasized the importance and value of social training for the blind. Supt. Bledsoe of Maryland spoke also of the value of social training. In regard to finding occupation for the blind, he pointed out the advantage of having the past record of recently blind men who apply for work, stating that such men who are found incapable have usually failed already to make good as seeing men. A number of other delegates made brief remarks on the field trainer and his work and preparation. At the close of this discussion the delegates had the pleasure of listening for a few minutes to delegates from a convention in an allied field of social work.

The Springfield Visitors.

The delegates of the American Association of Officials of Charity and Correction now holding their national convention at Springfield visited the national convention of the workers for the blind at 10:30. Among the distinguished guests from the capital city were Dr. Burroughs, Dr. Norbury of the state board of administration, and Hon. A. W. Bowen, secretary of the state commission of Charities. Upon arrival at the school a short musical program was rendered.

In his speech of introduction, Charles F. F. Campbell, the secretary, thanked the board for their kind invitation and hospitable reception. He spoke of the Illinois School for the Blind as standing in the front rank. "All your superintendents have been recognized as able and efficient men and as promoters of new and improved methods. The Hall Braille writer, invented by a former superintendent of this school, is used in every country of the world and has proved to be one of the richest of blessings to the sightless. It has given your school an international reputation." The remarks of Dr. Burroughs and Mr. Bowen occur in another column.

The Work of Blind Schools. The work done by the institutions for the blind of the country was next discussed by blind men and women who have graduated from schools in all parts of the union. At 11 o'clock when the delegates from the convention at Springfield had departed, the chairman announced as the subject of consideration "How the school for the blind helped me and how it might have helped me more."

The first to speak was Claron L. Shafer, lecturer for the Ohio Commission for the Blind. Mr. Shafer is a blind man of much ability, being able to operate his own stereopticon. He said in part:

"It seems to me the best way to tell you is to let you know what my impressions were when I became blind at the age of thirteen. Up until this period of my life, all I knew of the world was what I had read and the pictures I had seen. And both reading and pictures gave me the impression that all blind people were helpless and dependent on charity. My parents knew no more about the blind than I did. They, like many others, had never been brought face to face with the question. Therefore, as I entered upon my existence as a blind boy, I was confronted with the idea that the rest of my days were to be spent in ignorance and dependence. I fretted for a time, but I soon felt my independent spirit breaking."

"My father, one day, in order to give me a little diversion, took me with him to the county seat and there we met Mr. Bomher, who is now director of the music department in the School for the Blind of Colorado. He told us of the school at Columbus and within three weeks I was a pupil there. Neither I nor my parents knew what was before me, but we were willing to venture."

"I wish to say to this audience that the first month in the Ohio School for the Blind changed my whole life. I there saw the world in a new light and discovered that even though deprived of my sight I could continue my education. This thought stimulated my whole nature and when I returned to my home at the end of the term, my parents found me planning for the future as in former days."

Tell of Early Experiences.

Mr. Shafer was followed by Miss Minnie Hicks, instructor in the Maryland school for the blind. Miss Hicks told of her experiences as a child when, recently blinded and thinking that there was for her no more sunshine in life, she was cheered by a group of merry blind children who were making the walls of the institution resound with their happy laughter. Miss Fannie Kimball, state home teacher of Rhode Island, said that her school had done so much for her that she did not wish to speak a word of criticism but that if she were going to lack fault, it would be regarding the lack of purpose of many schools. They should specialize teaching subjects as domestic science, for instance. Miss Adelia M. Hoyt of Iowa told how her life in school changed her from a delicate and timid child to a responsible and efficient woman. Miss Hoyt is the author of "After Graduation," showing what a blind child can do if it only has the opportunity. M. M. Caronik, instructor, Maryland school for the blind, told of his early life in Russia and later struggles as a blind immigrant boy in this country. Mrs. G. E. Owens followed with the remarkable record of her experiences as a blind teacher of music to seeing children. She taught music in the "public schools" of Geneva and Exter, Neb., for eight years. Miss Geneva Campbell of Pennsylvania closed the talks by graduates of blind blind schools. Miss Campbell is studying Japanese preparatory to going to Japan as a teacher in 1914. She will take a course in Columbia university before leaving the United States.

This ended the program of the morning. After luncheon the delegates spent the time talking and visiting on the grounds of the institution and in committee meetings, the proceedings of which are to be announced in the business session this morning. Some of the delegates enjoyed an automobile ride about the city.

The Uniform Type Report. Consideration of the final report of the uniform type committee was made Thursday instead of Friday morning on account of some of the delegates being completed to return to their homes. The convention convened for the consideration of this report at 7:30.

A motion was made to substitute the resolutions for the recommendations as submitted by the committee. After considerable discussion this was carried unanimously. The report of the committee as amended by the substitution of the following resolutions for the recommendations of the committee was then unanimously adopted.

Resolutions. Inasmuch as we feel the eminent desirability of a uniform system of 1st. That we endorse the plans of work of the committee, and authorize it to proceed along the lines authorized in its report, publishing from time to time statements of its progress and looking forward to a report to our next convention embodying the definite assignments of characters in such a system.

2nd. That the uniform type committee be continued with a membership of seven.

3rd. That a fund of $10,000 be raised and placed at the disposal of the committee for use in the prosecution of its work, and that a committee of the association be appointed to raise this amount.

Convention Endorses Committee Action.

By this action the convention went on record as endorsing the work of the committee in their efforts to solve the type question and expressed themselves as in favor of extending the time and providing means for further investigation. It is hoped in the two years which will elapse before the next convention that the committee will have worked out a definite system which will commend itself to all those interested in the subject.

NICHOLS PARTY ARRIVES AT SHANGHAI.

Vivid Description Given of Well Known City—Visit Made to Race Track and Story Told of Remarkable Surgery.

We visited a suburban restaurant called by the royal name of King George's place and our entertainer called for refreshments and for a little over a dollar's worth of eatables tea and lemonade and drinkables, they charged him nearly four dollars, three for style and one for the feed. We also visited a number of parks, some of which had once been private property, but we were informed that a number of the people along that street had been fearfully burned with a rubber stock some years before and had been obliged to sacrifice large parts of their estates to pay their debts. The grounds were yet beautiful, but lechad—decay—was written on a number of them. We also visited the grounds of a government school and were delighted with the lawn anyway.

Some Games. One day we went out to the race track where the rich and men of elegant leisure love to congregate. It is called the race track, though there are many games played there, also, and when we were there we saw no horse races, but I did see for the first time in my life cricket playing and a polo game. This of course speaks rather poorly for my experience as a sportsman, but such is the fact. I didn't see so much in the cricket to interest me as in the other game. The men were fine riders and did wonderful work. Perhaps it would be well to explain what a polo game is. It is played by men mounted on ponies about the size of mustangs and there are four on each side. A ball much the same as that used in baseball is tossed into the field, which seemed to be an eighth of a mile long and green sod. At each end were two posts twenty feet apart and the game was to knock the ball to the end of the field and between the posts, one side having its goal at one end and the other side at the other. The players had long sticks, at the end of which were mallets eight or ten inches long and at right angles with the stick, and with these they knocked the ball. One side would give the ball a knock and send it a long way and then the other would take after it and try to get it away from that goal to his own, and so the playing went fast and furious and it was exciting indeed. It was remarkable to see how all the ponies were trained and how long they would sustain a hard gallop, for when called on they had to go and that in a hurry. Of course each player had a fresh mount occasionally and all the ponies seemed well bred and were in good order. Each had a special attendant, for the time of a Chinese laborer is not very valuable and they were well groomed.

Remarkable Surgery. Staying at the hotel here for a short time is a lady who is a trained nurse and is connected with a missionary hospital in Korea. She has a photograph showing a remarkable bit of surgery recently performed at the hospital with which she is connected. A man was suffering with indigestion and went to a native doctor for treatment. The man of medicine shook his head, looked at the patient a while, then looked out of the window very wisely, ordered his servant to bring him a stick about an inch in diameter and sixteen or eighteen inches long, and he would soon make havoc with that indigestion business. He took the stick, told the sick man to open his mouth and he would dispose of the trouble in short order. He rammed the stick down the man's throat and into his stomach, but instead of expelling the trouble the stick broke off, leaving about a foot inside the man. He was in agony, but like the son who told the old man to grin and bear it for it was the making of the pup, the doctor told the patient to stand till he was well, but the man failed to see any cure while enduring the agony he was undergoing. Finally some one told him to go to the foreign doctor as a last resort and perhaps he would get some relief there. He did so and the surgeon at the missionary hospital had to open the man's stomach and remove the offending stick, which would indeed have cured the indigestion in a short time but it would have cost the man his life. As it was he recovered and now has an excellent idea of the foreign doctor and a correspondingly poor one of native skill.

An Impressive Scene. One evening as we were walking along the bund or wharf we saw a large throng of East Indians surging toward a launch which was moored alongside a small wharf boat, and hastened to see what was being done. We saw in the midst a man who seemed to be highly honored and wondered if we had not come to the wedding ceremony, though that could hardly have been the case, as the man whom all were after to show respect was well toward fifty in appearance. The native of East India may adopt modern dress, but he sticks to his turban warm as it must be with its several yards of gaily colored cloth wound around his head, but hot or cold it is there and he seems oblivious of anything uncomfortable and probably he is not so. In this case the company presented a singular appearance with their heads gay in yellow, red, and what not as they crowded down the way to the wharf by which the boat was launched.

I asked a number of persons what was going on, but no one could tell me until I accosted a man with a huge turban who had some command of our language and he said with considerable pride that the man who had received so much honor was an eminent priest, who was on his way home to Calcutta after a tour of several years in various lands of the world, the United States included. The priest's neck was covered with garlands which the people had placed there as he walked to the wharf and he seemed the object of great veneration. With him were his wife, a son about eight or ten, and a daughter a little older, another man who my informant said was a physician, and his wife. The ladies wore white garments and had white veils depending from their heads almost to the ground.

The other members of the little party had received some flowers, though most of them had been bestowed on the priest.

With his retinue he managed to work his way through the dense throng that surrounded them and stand on the upper deck of the launch, which remained at the dock some time, during which he stood looking down at the mass of faces before him. He was a tall, fine looking man, well but not gaily dressed, wearing modern clothes, but with a turban and boots, into which his pants were tucked as if he had been riding horseback. The boy had removed his turban, but the mother hastened to replace it, though the youngster didn't seem to fancy the process very much.

After a short time the priest began an incantation in a sing song tone and the people responded for some moments, then stopped while he went on alone and again they joined him in a loud tone, almost like a chant, only there were no notes, only one tone to it all. My East Indian informant said it was a prayer they were uttering and after it was finished the priest addressed the multitude and at last the launch moved slowly toward the ship that was to bear the party to their destination and there was much waving, cheering and all kinds of demonstrations of esteem and veneration as the craft moved away. My informant proudly remarked that the priest knew six modern languages and was a great man.

Sunday.

Sunday is observed in this place in a partial manner. Most of the places of business are kept open, though a good many close out of respect for the day. A great many Japanese have come here and are in business and generally are successful and not much liked by the natives. They are shrewd in business and have the reputation of not being very scrupulous in regard to the manner in which they make money. We went to the Union church, which we found a fine edifice with unique finishing. The interior was all plain black without any plastering, though the brick used were of an ornamental character and the whole had a massive appearance. The pastor's name was Darwin and he is a true son of the little island. The discourse was to the joy scouts, who had attended in goodly numbers in uniform and paid respectful attention to all that was said. The speaker took for his text the story of the conquest of the Midianites at Gideon's pool and said it was one of the best stories of soldier camp life written and his sermon was very good and well suited for the occasion.

The Jesuit Mission.

One afternoon we visited what is one of the great enterprises of the religious world, the Jesuit mission, which is located at the end of the French concession. It consists of a large number of buildings and all have their special uses. It is also the site of one of the principal observatories of the world and here all sorts of observations are taken, weather forecast and information furnished ship captains. Time is furnished clocks and in general all that is expected at a first class establishment of the kind is done here.

In addition there is a large plant devoted to the care and instruction of orphans, of whom they have 300 boys and more than as many girls. The priest who showed us through the boys' department said there were 300 boys and 600 girls in that part, but the sister whom we found there placed the number somewhat less. The boys are well cared for in dormitories and are especially taught wood carving and do some remarkably fine work, which they sell at good prices. Furniture of various kinds, images of all sorts pertaining to the church, fancy articles and the like are shaped by their skillful hands.

They have a school in the forenoon and in the afternoon work at the carving till supper time. A large playground showed that the boys are looked after properly and they all seemed to be in good health and condition and happy in their surroundings. A large church stands near the plant and to it the children are taken for worship and all are carefully taught the doctrines of the church. A number of priests or brothers are managers and all is conducted in an orderly manner. The boys are sent out well equipped for life and the priest said they generally married the girls from the other school and so were harmonious in life.

The girls' department was under the care of a number of sisters and there for the first time in my life I saw a Chinese sister, and she looked well in the garb of the order and was demure and well appearing. The girls are taught fancy work, lace making, needle work and fine embroidery. They had a number of elegant pieces of work for sale and generally have a market for all they produce. Their lace is very handsome and commands good prices. One department of their work was indeed wonderful. The sister in charge said they had something over three hundred orphan girls at the home and during the day twelve hundred women and girls came from the surrounding territory to work. The lace work is fine, but we were hardly prepared for the wonders we saw in the embroidery department. There they are executing a larger order for the residence or palace or some grandee in France and the work was simply wonderful. It was all

Gave Him A New Stomach

"There are thousands of sufferers from stomach and liver troubles whom I wish I could meet and tell what Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets would do for them," writes H. M. Young, editor of the Sun, Lake View, Ohio. "One bottle of the tablets would end the trouble for most of them. I suffered intensely after eating and never felt well, and no treatment or medicine I tried ever seemed to do me any good until reading an advertisement for Chamberlain's Tablets in my own paper. I tried a bottle. The first few doses gave me surprising relief, and the second bottle seemed to give me a new stomach and perfect good health. I didn't think anything would give me such a complete cure. They are wonderful."

VISITORS FROM MANY STATES VISITED INSTITUTIONS HERE

Party of Forty-Five Came Thursday on Special Car—Had Been Attending Charities and Correction Convention in Springfield

Forty-five members of the American Association of officials of Charities and Corrections who have been attending the convention in Springfield, came to Jacksonville Thursday morning at 10:20 o'clock, having a special car attached to the regular train. They first visited the school for the Blind where they were guests for an hour or more at the convention in progress there. At noon they enjoyed a luncheon at State School for Deaf and after visiting the various buildings and departments there went to Jacksonville State hospital where they inspected that institution. They returned to Springfield on the 6:35 train.

Personnel of Party.
The party was headed by Dr. F. P. Norbury, alienist, and Judge Burrough, secretary of the State Board of Administration and by A. L. Bowen, secretary of the State Charities Commission. Others in the party were: Mrs. Logan Hay, Miss Mildred Kaufman, Mrs. William Vredenburg, Mrs. Hugh Morrison, Mrs. Stewart Brown, Mrs. Nathan Cole, Miss Mary Hudson, Miss Mary Humphrey all of Springfield; Fred R. Johnson of Bridgeport, Conn.; L. A. Halbert of the public welfare bureau of Kansas City; Monceignor Riley, Schnechtady, N. Y.; John F. Bludsoe, Maryland; T. S. McAlooney, Pittsburgh; Hugh G. Bergner, Peoria; R. C. Montague, West Virginia; Mrs. Frances Rider of the Congressional Library, Washington, D. C.; Miss Gold thwaite, New York City Library; Mrs. A. S. Tharmisch, member New York Charity board; R. W. Wallace, New York; Dr. H. V. Bruce, Hudson, N. Y.; Mrs. T. R. Kain, probate officer of Idaho; H. H. Shrier, Ohio charity board; J. A. Bowen, children's welfare department, Indiana; W. H. Davenport, member of Indiana charity board; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Phillips, of the Glenwood home for boys; R. W. Hebbard, secretary of the New York Charity board; H. A. Lawrence of West Chester, N. Y.; Father Gavish of the Indiana state board of charity.

School for Blind.
At the School for the Blind Judge Burroughs was called upon and spoke briefly. He simply expressed the pleasure that the visitors felt in being able to visit the Blind and to arrive at a time when an important convention was in session. He said that Illinois had been liberal in its provision for the care of its blind citizens and that the state was ready and purposed to make effort in the directing the education of the blind along the best lines.

Mr. Bowen Sec. of Charities commission also spoke briefly. He referred to Jacksonville as the mother of the charitable institutions of Illinois. He said that Illinois School for the Blind and that the buildings had been designed with such good judgment that recent years had shown but slight improvement over their construction. Mr. Bowen also mentioned the obligation that the state association of Charities and corrections felt because of the action of the State Blind school authorities in sending over a chorus of blind boys and girls to sing at their last convention.

Entertained at Luncheon.
From the school for the Blind the visitors were taken in a special car to the school for the deaf where Supt. Gillett had made most generous preparations for their reception. Garden flowers and shrubbery were used for decorating the great dining room and there as the guests were seated in groups an elaborate luncheon was served by teachers of the school who happened to be in the city. Grace was said by Dr. A. B. Morey.

At the conclusion of the luncheon Supt. Gillett told very briefly of the founding of the school and sketched the progress of intervening years. He mentioned the notable fact that throughout its long history the school has had but five superintendents. Mr. Gillett explained the work that is attempted by the school and pointed out the various buildings and departments. Then the visitors in charge of teachers or other visitors were shown through the various buildings. A number of superintendents of schools for the blind who are in Jacksonville attending the convention in session at the state school for the blind were present also as special guests.

At Jacksonville State Hospital Dr. Carriel and his assistants extended all courtesies possible and the visitors were thoroughly interested in visiting that great hospital. They returned to Springfield on the 6:30 train.

A second party, also under the auspices of New York university, will make a similar tour, but will concern itself chiefly with labor problems, labor unions, social insurance, labor exchanges and industrial betterment in stores and factories. Still another party, headed by Prof. S. W. Gilman, head of the school of commerce in the University of Wisconsin, will sail on the steamship Patricia Saturday on a similar mission of investigation. The Gilman party will tour England, Belgium, Germany and Switzerland and will confine its investigation to the methods of work in the great industrial plants in those countries.

OBITUARY.

Richard Byar Burnett died at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, at the home of his grandson, John Rhea, near Waverly, aged 91 years, 8 months and 10 days.

The deceased was born in Wayne county, Kentucky, September 13, 1821 and was the youngest son of Roland and Mary Hurt Burnett, natives of Virginia, who settled in Kentucky at an early date. Roland Burnett was born in Patrick county, Virginia in 1773 and died in Macon county, Missouri, March 24, 1858, aged 85 years. Mary Hurt Burnett was born in Georgetown, South Carolina in 1781 and died in Macon county, Missouri, November 3, 1851, aged 70 years. In Virginia, Roland Burnett was a planter; on arriving in Kentucky he became a farmer and a trader. He was the father of nine children, Isham and James Burnett, together with Jason Van Winkle and others followed the trail of the old pioneer westward in 1830, and at the end of 27 days travel located in Morgan county, near Franklin. The father together with the rest of the family moved to Macon county, Missouri, where John and Moses Burnett, brothers of the deceased, lived there until their deaths a few years ago. The sisters Mrs. Nannie Dodson and Mrs. Patsy Bramer lived in Missouri, while Mrs. Betsy Chistel and Mrs. Lucinda Beebe moved to Texas. Richard Byar, the youngest member of the family was married to Mary Bramer of Macon county, Missouri, when 19 years old and soon after came to Morgan county, locating in the Little York neighborhood. After living here a short time they returned to Missouri, but came to Illinois again in 1846 and the remainder of their lives was spent here. Mrs. Burnett died January 19, 1891 and since that time Mr. Burnett lived south of Franklin with his grandson, John Rhea, until they moved to Waverly last December day.

Mr. and Mrs. Burnett were the parents of eight children. The surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Lucy Lewallen of Oklahoma and Mrs. Lucinda England of Callao, Missouri, also one son, Isham, near Franklin.

Moses and Unity died in infancy. Mrs. Mary Luttrell, Mrs. Elizabeth Rhea and Mrs. Nancy Luttrell died a few years since. In addition to raising his own large family Mr. Burnett took his grandson, John Rhea, whose mother died when he was but seven days old and has since been a father to him, receiving in return the devotion of a dutiful son in his old age and sickness. He leaves a host of relatives, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and great-great-grandchildren.

When old enough Mr. Burnett attended the subscription schools. Enduring all the hardships of pioneer life, he was endowed with a strong and energetic disposition and despite his extreme age had never required the services of a physician until his last illness which was of six weeks duration. His death was due to senility.

Short services were held at the house, Rev. Mr. Conlee in charge and the funeral at the Baptist church in Franklin, Thursday morning at 11 o'clock and interment was made in Franklin cemetery.

WHAT EVERY MAN KNOWS.

There is a word at which all true men strike for the sanctity of motherhood.

Every boy knows its import and rises in arms at the epithet.

And it is a good thing to have it so. The son who will not battle for the name he bears is a coward and a cad.

From youth onward the male understands the holiness of woman's virtue.

It is an entail, a heritage, impregnated in his blood.

Every man knows what it is when a woman goes wrong.

Every man knows the ultimate cost of her sin.

Every man knows the hopelessness of her tomorrows.

Every man knows the shame and degradation of the aftermath; therefore you cannot plead age nor ignorance in extenuation of your crime.

If you were old enough to wreck a life you were old enough to realize the direful consequences for the girl.

Even in your earliest teens you saw opprobrium heaped upon the Little Sisters of Sin.

When you wrecked her life you could not for an instant dismiss the picture of her punishment.

You are unclean, defiled, a cur and a sneak.

And yet you wear the badge of respectability and dare to hold your head high in a decent community.

You're a masquerader, an interloper in honorable society.

The stain is on you. The years can't wipe it from your conscience. Hell must exist—your existence demands it.

There is mercy for her, but God will never hear your prayers.

She was reckless. Caution only comes through experience and it was too late when knowledge came to her.

You swore that you loved her, but you lied, for men who love reverence and protect. They do not degrade.

Where is she tonight?

A million outcasts are sinking in the shadows, pacing the pavements—painted ghosts of "women who were," nameless things—scourged by want—hungry for happiness.

She is there among them—a joyless shell, price marked, and vice marked, without a friend, beyond the barriers, locked without the gate through which none may return.

But you'll pay, too. Her memory will never fade.

Throughout the entire years conscience will gnaw at your heart and on the day of judgment the master will avenge.

You can't replace—you can't retrace—you can't erase the past. You cannot expiate.

Plan as you will, rise as you may, climb as high as ambition can drive you, peace can never be your lot.

And one supreme torture awaits you—when you look into the faces of your children and know that you are unworthy of their respect.—Herbert Kaufman in Woman's World for July.

THE REAL TEST

Herpicide is in Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge the efficiency of any article of toilet is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair dressings may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the scalp from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

Awaiting The Joyful Sound

The Wonderful Music that Bursts Forth
When the Stork Arrives.

That funny, little, brassy cry that echoes the arrival of the new baby is perhaps the most cherished remembrance of our lives. And thousands of happy mothers owe their preservation to health and strength to Mother's Friend. This is an external remedy that is applied to the abdominal muscles. It relieves all the tension, prevents tenderness and pain, enables the muscles to expand gently, and, when baby comes, the muscles relax naturally, the form is preserved without laceration or other accident.

You will find Mother's Friend on sale at almost any drug store, as it is one of the standard, reliable remedies that grandmothers everywhere have relied upon.

With its daily use during the period of expectation, there is no weakness, no nausea, no morning sickness, no pain, distress or strain of any kind. Its influence is truly remarkable, as it penetrates the tissues and gets to the very heart of the matter, governed by the demands of nature. You will be surprised at its wonderful effect and what a grateful relief it affords.

Especially to young women Mother's Friend is one of the greatest of all helpful influences.

CHICAGO MOVES INTO THIRD PLACE BY DEFEATING NAPS

After Using Three Pitchers in Uphill Fight Sox are Victors 7 to 5.

Chicago, June 26.—Chicago played an uphill game to day and after using three pitchers defeated Cleveland 7 to 5 and went into third place in the pennant race. Walsh started to pitch but was touched up for five hits which included Turner's triple and Lajoie's double and these with an error and a sacrifice netted five runs.
Walsh was replaced by Benz who allowed only two hits. He showed weakness in the ninth and Russell was sent to the rescue.
The locals hit Veau Gregg in bunches and these, coupled with the loose fielding behind him enabled Chicago to win.
Lajoie had an off day, making three errors which proved costly.
Schalk was easily the star of the day, his batting, fielding and base running being remarkable.

Judge Niemann of Mineola, L. I., has decided that the system of bookmaking in use at the race track is not gambling within a strict interpretation of the law. One person, or 1,000 persons, can wager money on the result of a race with any other person or persons of fairly good repute and remain immune from prosecution upon a charge of gambling. It is only when wagers are made between parties who are known to the public as common, every day gamblers that the law is fractured, according to Judge Niemann's ruling, and of course the every-day gamblers do not inhibit the New York race tracks—come-ons only nibble at the game nowadays.

There is a storm ahead for the "Knockout" Brown-Johnny Griffith zest at at-in-Bay, Ohio, during the Perry Centennial celebration. The directors of the fete have appealed to Attorney General Hogan to prevent the bout on the ground that it is a desecration of an event which will be patriotic, educational, and in many respects, religious. It is the general belief that Mr. Hogan will not need much urging to prevent the mill, as it is well known throughout Ohio that previous to his election he was an uncompromising foe of all commercialized sports held upon the occasion of each year, always maintaining it was a day intended by law to be one of reverence and not for levity.

Jerry Downs, who has occupied a berth upon nearly every pro. team this side of the Great Divide, has been sold to the Seals of San Francisco by Indianapolis. If he does not wind up the season, will be through storming Filipinos, it will be through no fault of the gliding Jerry.

E. C. Quigley, formerly director of athletics of the University of Kansas, has been appointed to the umpiring staff of the National league. Quigley has been umpiring in the international league this season, and has been a thorn in the midship of all the umpires batters in the eastern AA class league.

Garry Herman takes more delight in walloping the Cubs than he ever did in the days when he was a hand-printer listening to the copy cutter's scissors click as they shot through the New York gold stocks or the weather market tables.

Fred Clark bobbed up in St. Joe,
Mo., Tuesday and signed outfielders
Watson and Kelly for his Pirates.
Watson, up to three weeks ago, was hitting for an average bordering on .500, when he met with an accident running the bases, breaking a leg, which promises to keep him out of the game all season. Kelly last year made the training trip with the White Sox and was turned back for more seasoning. He is clever in the meadows, has a good throwing wing and is speedy on the bases, but is rather shy in his work with the willow.

Jimmy Callahan was banished from the game again on Tuesday, this time by Umpire Hildebrand. Jimmy advised Hilde to return to the coast and learn the rudiments of the game, when the umpire gave the White Sox
what the worst of a wide-open play.
Ban Johnson, however, has stood behind the umpire, and Joems will remain in the rathskeller indefinitely.

Alderman Lange's meal ticket arm appears to be growing worse as the season advances. There were favorable indications during the training trip that the Michigan haymaker would fulfill the prediction made by Connie Mack three years ago, i. e.,
"Lange is destined to become the greatest pitcher the game has ever known." All the care given the weakened wing by Boncetter Reece and by Trainer Buckner have failed to bring back the old time power, and the pudgy hurler's friends fear his pitching days are nearing the end.

In his address to the jury in the Pelkey-McCarthy manslaughter trial at Caldwell one of the crown's attorneys pleaded that if the evidence was sufficient to prove that a prize fight had taken place then defendant Pelkey was guilty of manslaughter as he was charged in the indictment; but if on the other hand the testimony showed the encounter to be merely a boxing match with a money consideration as a prize attachment, then he was to be found guilty of a misdemeanor, which would entitle the defendant to entrance upon a term in the geology school—the dominion rock pile. In other words, according to the opinion expounded by this erudite disciple of Blackstone, when one cleaves the head of an obnoxious opponent with a cobble stone he must be taken to the stockade and there drawn and quartered in the presence of a jury of his peers. If, however, he simply black hand the other fellow and hacks and slashes him into ribbons, then a medal and the plaudits of his countrymen await him.

PUBLIC RECEPTION AT ILLINI'S NEW TEMPLE

BIG AUDIENCE HEARS ABOUT TRUE MEANING OF ODD FELLOWSHIP.

Lodge Now Seventy-Five Years of Age Has More Than Five Hundred Members—Good Business Men Have Directed Its Affairs Through the Years—Grand Officers Conferred Past Master's Degree—School of Instruction Today.

Thursday's exercises in connection with the dedication of the new temple of Illini lodge were very interesting and were largely attended. At 10:30 o'clock the visitors were taken on an automobile ride around the city and then out to Nichols park where an excellent picnic dinner was served. In the afternoon a concert was given at the temple by the Orphans band and afterward the past grand degree was conferred on a number of candidates. At night a great audience filled the lodge room for the public service of the dedicatory exercises. The program included a number of musical selections, speeches by several of the

The first Charter members were John Burns, Matthew McBride, Wm. Davis, George Darlington, Josiah M. Lucas, Michael Rapp and Thomas Mitchell. The lodge was organized at the residence of William Davis on North Main street. It met there for seven months when room were rented over what is now Coover and Shreve's Drug Store on the West Side of the square, where the lodge had its home for eight years. In 1846 the lodge became defunct but early in 1847 was reinstated in what was then known as the Coffman building, but more recently as the Harrison building, and now known as the Widenham building where the lodge held its sessions for twelve years. It was then moved to the Chambers Block on the North side. When this room became too small the Dayton Smith building was leased in the fall of 1863 where the lodge increased both in membership and in financial strength. In 1880 it became apparent that a more commodious hall was an urgent necessity and the hall on the site now occupied by the Knights of Pythians was leased and served as its home until the disastrous fire in 1895, when the lodge moved to the Ayers Block on West State street, which has been its home until now when it is occupying its own Temple on East State street, the best arranged and furnished hall in the state, if not in the west.

Membership Figures.

McFillen and others. As mayors, John R. Davis, Theodore Tyrrell, H. H. Bancroft and George W. Davis; As State treasurer by Andrew Russell, present Noble Grand. A great many of the prominent merchants of the city are on the rolls of Illini, and last and best of all the mechanics, who are more than any other class have made No. 4, a success.

Sound Financial Basis.

Illini Lodge owes its remarkable prosperity during its existence of seventy-five years largely to the executive ability of those who have had charge of its finances, Wesley Mathers, A. E. Ayers, Edward Scott, M. Rapp, Edward Weil, Phillip Lee, Matthew Minter and Andrew Russell are some of the financiers who, from the beginning down to the present time have succeeded in building up an organization not only strong in numbers, but able to carry out the principles of benevolence which is one of the cardinal tenets of the order. Illini has expended more than $100,000 in care of the sick and the relief of the Widow and Orphan. The fees for initiation are $5.00 and for the degrees $5.00 each, yearly dues are $12.00. The sick benefits are $5.00 per week, watchers for the sick and the payment of $500.00 funeral benefit upon the death of a member.

MICHAEL RAPP
A charter member of Illini lodge.

Illini Lodge feels proud of the fact at the present time it enjoys the distinction of having in its membership four brothers who have been members continuously for over fifty years and have been presented by the Grand Lodge of Illinois with 50 year Veteran Jewels. They are A. R. Gregory, B. R. Upham, A. Armstrong, H. H. Knollenberg.

Social Life Impassioned. The meetings of the lodge are well attended, the social features are given a prominent place, and all Oddfellows are given a cordial welcome to the Hall.

In March 1903, the lodge organized a degree team which has added much to the effectiveness and beauty of the secret work, F. L. McDougall is the present captain of the team and the work is conferred by the team as follows: Initiatory degree on the fourth Tuesday of the month, first degree on the first Tuesday night, second degree on the second Tuesday night, and the third degree on the third Tuesday night.

The present officers of the lodge are, Andrew Russell, Noble Grand; A. Deatherage, Vice Grand; Carl C. Henderson, Recording Secretary; T. C. Phelps, Financial Secretary; Matthew Minter, Treasurer; J. B. Williamson, T. S. Martin, Arthur Cobb, P. G. Stein and A. R. Phillips, Trustees.

Miss Katherine Rogerson with her sister, Miss Dorothy Rogerson as accompanist sang a solo which was greatly appreciated and responded to an encore.

Brief addresses impressing something of the beauty and strength of Odd Fellowship were made by Grand Warden Pease, Grand Secretary Sikes, Dr. J. A. Lucas, superintendent of the Orphans Home and Andrew Russell, noble grand of Illini lodge.

Miss Edna Sheppard played two piano numbers brilliantly and then Prof. Rayhill closed the program with three short readings, "A Chicago Smart Man," "Katie's Answer" and "The Heliotrope." These numbers were heard appreciatively and were roundly applauded. Following this program an informal reception was held and after inspecting the temple all visited the dining hall.

Reception to the Public.

At eight o'clock at night the grand opening of the temple to the public took place with Horace H. Bancroft presiding during the program. The Orphans Home band played a selection which was greatly appreciated after which Thomas Hughes presented a carefully prepared history of Illini lodge as follows:

First Secret Society in City.

Mr. Chairman, Odd Fellows and Rebekahs and Friends:

Having been assigned to the Historical Sketch of Illini Lodge No. 4, I realize that the same might almost be an exhaustless subject, as during its life of seventy-five years many things of importance have occurred. I desire to say however that I have merely pick out what I think is the most important and in the little time that I have been able to give to this work may have omitted some features and also names of prominent people that should have honorable mention, if such is the fact I hope that no other brother will feel slighted or grieved for as a matter of fact I feel that I am too young in the harness of Odd Fellowship to talk history when we have members of the lodge at this time many years older in membership than I am of age.

Illini Lodge was the first secret organization founded in Jacksonville. It is one of the oldest and largest Lodges of Oddfellows in Illinois. It was instituted July 21st, 1838, by Grand Sire Wilday in person, the founder of Oddfellowship in America.

ODD FELLOWS ORPHANS HOME IS DOING A GREAT WORK

One Hundred and Sixty-Seven Children Are Cared For There—Are Trained to Become Useful Citizens.

The presence of the band from the Odd Fellows Orphans Home at Lincoln has furnished a distinct feature of the exercises in connection with the dedication and anniversary of Illinois lodge, I. O. O. F. There is something very appealing about this band made up as it is of fifteen boys and four girls who are residents at the orphans home. They are children of deceased Odd Fellows and they show by their conduct and demeanor that they are happy and well cared for. Dr. J. A. Lucas, formerly a pastor of Illinois conference of the M. E. church has for the past seven and one-half years been the superintendent of the home which is constantly growing in usefulness. Under his direction the home is doing a work which meets the approbation of all the Odd Fellows scattered throughout the state.

The members of the band who have been taking part in the anniversary exercises and who between times have visited places of interest around Jacksonville are Segard Carlstrom, leader, Norman Radford, Glen Welons, Louise Abel, Clark Purcell, Calvin Eudy, Fred Schoen, Marvin Butler, Lorene Radford, Herbert Clark, Mary E. Wickersham, Robert Brown, Hannibal Hanson, Robert Bensing, Reta Radford, Roy McCullough, Carl Hoyl, Lee Roberts and Claude Sittler. The members of the band are trained by Prof. Merry a member of the faculty of Lincoln college and they thoroughly enjoy their musical work. The band naturally takes quite a large part in the social life of the home.

Founded Twenty Years Ago.
It was twenty years ago that the orphan home was established and today there are 167 orphans cared for there. There are 90 boys and 77 girls and there are now 56 children on the waiting list anxious to be taken into the home. Sometime this year a new building which is now in course of construction will be completed and then there will be room for 75 more boys and girls. The children are taken anywhere in ages from 2 to 12 years and are dismissed when 16 or 17 years old. In the school proper there are four teachers of the regular branches; one teacher of music, one domestic science, another of manual training. A farm of 158 acres is included in the home property and furnishes employment and training for a good many of the boys. The girls and boys live in separate dormitories and are in direct charge of six governesses who look after the daily house life. The children live at the home the entire time but the school year runs through nine months. During the other three months they are given employment or diversions to occupy their time in a profitable and happy way.

Cost is Insignificant.

During the school year the children attend Sunday school at the home and then go to the church of their choice in Lincoln. In the summer months they attend Sunday school in connection with the Lincoln churches. It is an interesting fact that this splendid work in connection with Odd Fellowship, a work which is in a great measure responsible for the progress and success of the order is conducted at a total expense of about $183 a year per pupil. This means that the cost for each Odd Fellow in Illinois is only 35c per year. When one thinks of this home and its work it is to reflect how much can be accomplished by united effort at insignificant cost.

CELEBRATE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Forty-five members of Unity Presbyterian church of Woodson gathered at the home of their pastor Thursday noon to assist Rev. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Coleman to celebrate their thirteenth wedding anniversary. An elaborate dinner was served and after the menu William Colton presented the pastor and his wife with a beautiful chocolate set, the gift of the Unity Workers and the Gleaners of the church. A delightful afternoon was spent socially and the pastor and his wife had the hearty congratulations of a wide circle of friends.

THE WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

SELLING QUICKLY STOPS OPENING STOCK GAINS

TRADERS LOOK WITH SUSPICION ON LONDON RISE.

Market Irregular After Opening
Spurt With Slow Labored Movements and a Heavy Undertone.

(By Associated Press)
New York, June 26.—London cabled a higher range of prices for American stocks today and when trading began in the home market the international issues responded with general gains amounting to a point or more for Union Pacific, St.
Paul, Canadian Pacific and Anaconda copper. Traders looked with some suspicion upon the rise of Americans in London which might have been based, it was thought, upon operations from this side of the water. They sold stocks and opening gains swiftly vanished. Speculative leaders sagged until they were 1 to 2 points below the earlier high prices. The market thereafter was irregular, with slow, labored movements and a heavy undertone. Reading, Steel, Smelting, New York Central, Beet Sugar and Louisville were depressed a point or more below yesterday's close.

While the effect of the recent rise has not been entirely lost it was evident that sentiment was becoming more bearish, so far as concerned professional operators, whose dealings composed the bulk of business. There was no sign, however, of liquidation such as upset the market a few weeks ago. Although

"400" THE SLOGAN.

The Chamber of Commerce Will Prove Worthy of Public Trust and Respect If Every Member Will Do His Part.

All of us do not have the same capacities for work, but there is something that any of us can do. We can look up some friend or business acquaintance during the next four days and invite him to become a member of the Chamber of Commerce. Of course a person can be a booster without being identified with that organization, but the boosting spirit is catching when you associate with the other live wires of the town.

This is no one or a few men's game, as it requires the combined efforts of us all. We have a great field to work in, as there are so many things to boost and we need more good old dyed in the wool boosters that won't give up on the least pretext. The man, that will not serve on committees, and dodges the real work which there is to do, is easy to find. Therefore when you are on the lookout for good material for a town's boosting organization go after the men that will give in addition just their dues. The Chamber of Commerce needs a greater income, to be sure, but we also need men, that desire to see some of our most urgent problems immediately solved. The never give up spirit is what it is going to take to put Jacksonville on her feet as well as on the map.

The Ship Will Be Here Until Monday

Some will be surprised to learn that a ship has found its way into an inland town which is not on even a small river. It is not the old ship of state, but the municipal ship—The Chamber of Commerce. It came into port today without about three hundred aboard and the officers hope to depart on the first of July on another six months cruise with an additional hundred on board. During the past six months many squalls and storms have been encountered but the old hull proved its sea worthiness on many occasions, because her officers and crew had faith in her. They are scouring the whole city and should be able to round up by next Monday morning by the nine bell, four hundred individuals who will gladly pay the small sum of $12.00 for a six months voyage. Smoother sailing is assured because of more experience for the officers and being manned by a larger crew. Everyone who went along on the first trip is trying to take some friends with him and a more lively crowd it is sure to be.

Golf Links For Nichols Park.

There will be something more than a mere rumor if all the golf enthusiasts get busy and add a golf course to the park. The park commissioners are for it strong. Nichols park is big enough to accommodate one, a course would add one more attraction to the park, the street car company knows that it would be beneficial for them, we have many citizens who are strong for the game, and there are many persons who would assist in financing the scheme.

A committee of three or four could raise the money in a single day if they would only get busy. Talking what a fine thing it would be and occasionally letting it go into the daily papers as a news item will never build them. If the old men do not care to take the initiative, what's the matter with some of the younger fellows who are so crazy for such a recreation.

MR. NEWMAN EXPLAINS POSITION ON BOARD OF EDUCATION MATTERS.

I desire to make a statement to the public about board of education affairs and my activity in the quo warranto proceedings directed against Dr. Clampt, for fear that some people might believe that I am acting from some personal reason. Because I have taken the initiative in bringing quo warranto proceedings against Dr. Clampt, member of the board of education from the third ward, seeking to oust him from office on the ground that he now lives in the second ward and is not eligible to office from the third ward, I hope that the public will not get the idea that I have some personal grievance to settle or that I am opposed to Dr. Clampt particularly. The fact is that I am not fighting Dr. Clampt himself but I am opposing the methods employed by the board of education with reference to the erection of the eighth grade building. The board has been for several years going ahead with a plan for such a building. At an expense of $20,000 or more the property north of the high school building was cleared of buildings and has been standing there now two or three years without making any return on the money invested.

Instead of asking for a bond issue to pay the cost of erecting a building and letting the people express their wishes on the subject, the board evidently feeling that the decision of the people would be against them has adopted the plan of each year, asking the full sum allowed under the law for building and repair, $20,000. The intent of this law is to allow sufficient funds for keeping the school property in good condition but the board has levied the limit each year, used as little as possible for repairs and has carried over the balance to use for the proposed new building. The theory has been that the board would in a few years raise enough money to erect this building and that by collecting in this way that there would be no burden. The result has been that for years a large sum of money has been deposited in a local bank. In this special fund without drawing any interest. Today there is $54,554.19 in this special fund and the city does not get a cent of interest.

The board started out to erect about a $60,000 building and gradually the plans were changed until those adopted a few months ago are said to have called for a building which would cost in excess of $100,000. Bids were asked for and were about to be opened when it was found that the cost would be so much in excess of the amount of money available that the bids were returned to the contractors without opening and the matter was dropped temporarily. Meanwhile the plans which were adopted and abandoned have cost the taxpayers of the city of Jacksonville approximately about $3600 or 3 per cent on $129,000 for the architect's services on which 3 per cent the architect has already received warrants to the amount of $2500. The contract with the architect was that if the building was erected he was to receive 5 per cent of the total amount of the contract.

There are two other stories in connection with the bids received for the proposed new building. One was that after the first bids had been asked the time was extended on account of certain contractors and the request for bids was so worded that it was thought it would be possible to go ahead and award the contract for the foundation and walls of the proposed building, even if enough money was not in sight to complete it. But it was found that the wording of request for bids that this could not be done legally and so the whole matter was dropped.

And another story was that when the bids were to be opened there were strong reasons to believe that a St. Louis contractor had the lowest figure and said he would be willing to take his chances on getting the rest of the money, in addition to that the board had on hand, if one contract was awarded him. Then it is said that the board rather than award the contract to an out-of-town contractor even at a lower figure than could be obtained here, decided to drop the whole matter for the present.

It seems to me that the whole affair relative to the proposed eighth grade building has been mismanaged. I am in favor of the best school system we can have and am in favor of the eighth grade building if it can be erected for a reasonable sum and business methods are used by the board in the matter. I maintain, however, that the board has not used such judgment or methods as a group of business men would use in the conduct of their own affairs. There is a big vacant lot back of the high school which represents a large expenditure of money, there is $54,554.19 idle in the bank and the only plans for a building are those on which the estimates are said to run from $100,000 to $125,000.

While the law is such that the money from the building fund cannot be loaned except on conditions which are almost impossible now, at the same time this $54,000 could be so placed on deposit that it would bring in three per cent. I know several Jacksonville banks that would gladly pay 3 per cent if this money was deposited with them and I claim that it is the duty of the city council in connection with the board to see to it that this money is placed somewhere in such a way that it will draw at least 3 per cent interest.

SLAYER OF HUSBAND ON TRIAL.

Shreveport, La., June 26.—Charged with the murder of her husband, Mrs. Della Stroud, known as the best horsewoman in northern Louisiana, faced trial today in Judge John R. Land's court. From a plunging horse, Mrs. Stroud shot her husband in the public road near Vivian. The woman alleges that she had been attacked by her husband and that she shot in self defense.

Mrs. Stroud had been riding with Edward Beeler, a friend of the family who shared her love for horses. The husband is alleged to have been jealous of the attention paid his wife by Beeler and on meeting them as they were returning from a ride, dismounted and began beating his wife with a strap. As the horse she was riding became unmanageable and as he could not get close enough to continue that form of chastisement he drew a revolver, it is said, and was about to fire when his wife brought her own weapon into play. Despite the unsteadiness of her seat her aim was true and Stroud was killed instantly with a bullet through his head. Many prominent persons have been called as witnesses to testify as to the character of the defendant.

NOAH HENLINE IS

HITTING A .320 CLIP

Former Local Player Making Good at Wilkesbarre.

Noah Henline, a former Jacksonville player and who is well known here, having married Miss Marjorie Brainer of this city, is making good with the Wilkesbarre Barons. He is batting .320 and is leading the New York State league in base stealing, having swiped seventeen cushions. Wilkesbarre is in fourth place, while Scranton, the which Dick Smith is managing, is on the bottom. Mr. Henline is writing to an old friend in Bloomington, has the following to say:

"Just thought I would send you a sport sheet from the Syracuse Journal of a couple of days ago as you will no doubt be interested. It rained all day and spoiled our chances of pulling down something. In addition to the 100 yard dash Hoffman and I were entered with Ty Cobb and Dome Bush as a team in the 880 yard relay, each to run 220. The prize for the 100 yard was a silver loving cup worth $200, and the relay a loving cup worth $175, which would have gone to our home lodges for a year to be defended again next year. In addition to the cup in the relay there were four $15 gold medals which went outright, one to each contestant, and you can bet with that bunch we would have made the native sons get up and dust. We had our agreement that the relay cup was to go to Detroit lodge No. 31 if we won it as Cobb and Bush both belong to the one lodge and they agreed to stay out of the 100 yard if we would help them in the relay. We had our running togs and shoes on but the rain came again and they had to call it off.

"Say, Brisk," so far as we can find out I established a new world's record a week ago Sunday in Wilkesbarre against Troy. I am hitting third in the batting order and I was five times at bat and got a base on balls each time up. Had one stolen base and second three times in a nine inning game. I am batting .320, got six hits in the times up today in a double header.

"I am leading the league in stolen bases with seventeen.

"Let me hear from you if you can find time to write.

As ever your friend,

Noah Henline,

Wilkesbarre, Pa.

FINED FOR "JERKHOOKING."
George Tuttle and W. T. Burford were arrested recently on a charge of "jerkhooking" fishing and each was fined $25 and costs, in a Pike county court. Jerkhooking, as it is called, while not specifically set forth as a crime against the fish and game laws of the state, is punishable if a fish warden sees fit to prosecute it. The laws of the state of Illinois allow a man to fish with a hook and line in any public stream or lake. Certain fishermen have taken advantage of the opportunity to use a heavily weighted line to which is attached two or more heavy fish hooks. These are thrown into the water at the mouth of a sewer where carp congregate to feed, and by jerking the line out quickly many fish are caught, the hooks catching in their sides, fins, tails or anywhere they happen to strike. In addition to those which are caught in this manner, hundreds are gashed and cut by the sharp hooks, but get away only to die.

Washington, June 26.—With a view to averting the threatened strike of 90,000 railroad employees east of Chicago, the senate today rushed through the passage of amendments to the Erdman mediation act sought by the railroads and railway employees as affording suitable machinery for the settlement of their pending agreements.

The amendments enlarge the board from three to six. The railroads have declined to submit the present disputes to a board composed of only three members. It also provided for appointment by the president of a mediator at a salary of $7,500.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Miss Minnie R. Green entertained the members of the K. K. K. club at her beautiful country home "Clearview," near Pisgah, Wednesday afternoon. It was the club's annual open meeting and each member brought a guest. The house was beautifully decorated in the club colors, pink and white. Pink lilies and alder blossoms being used with charming effect. The afternoon was spent in sewing and a guessing contest in which Mrs. George Newman Jr. won the first prize and Miss Lena Taylor, the consolation prize. A number of musical selections and two readings were given by members of the club and altogether the afternoon was one of real enjoyment. A dainty two course luncheon was served in which the color scheme was carried out. About twenty-five guests were present, among which were Miss Lida Reeg of Miami, Texas, Miss Edith Colton of Woodson and Miss Alice Green of this city.

Tonight the historic old Adams county court house witnessed a repetition of the old war time camp fire with its stirring patriotic songs of the days of '61-'65. Final arrangements at the big camp were completed today.

Starved Himself to Death.

Hunger strike records were broken some years ago by a Frenchman named Granie, who was arrested for murder in circumstances which left no doubt as to his guilt. He determined to starve himself to death in order to escape the guillotine and from the day of his arrest refused to eat. In spite of every effort on the part of the prison authorities, who first tried tempting him to eat by placing the most dainty meals in his cell and when that failed attempted forcible feeding, Granie held out for sixty three days, at the end of which time he died.

A Renewed Struggle.

"My old barber has left the city." "You seem very regretful." "Yes; he had been trying to sell me a bottle of hair tonic for the past fifteen years, and so far I had succeeded in standing him off. Now I shall have to start the battle all over with a new man."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Grave Danger.

"Madam, your pet Pekinese spaniel bit one of the children on the street in the face this morning." "Good heavens, my poor little dog! I know none of the children about here have their faces antiseptically washed."—Baltimore American.

J. PARKER DOAN PRESENTED BEAUTIFUL GOLD WATCH

Employees of Jacksonville Railway & Light Company Remember Their Retiring Superintendent With Appreciative Gift.

J. Parker Doan who recently resigned as superintendent of the Jacksonville Railway & Light Co., was given a happy surprise Thursday evening, when he was called to the car barns and there presented a beautiful gold watch by the local employees of the traction system. Mr. Doan was told that there was some trouble at the barns which commanded his attention, and so he went, ignorant of the fact that the employees had previously gathered there. George Hocking acted as spokesman for the men and he told of the long service which Mr. Doan had given the company and also of the happy relations which had ever existed between the superintendent and employees. He expressed the deep regret of all, in seeing Mr. Doan leave the company but voiced the hope that in what ever work he engaged that it would be followed by much success. He then, in behalf of the employees, presented Mr. Doan with a very handsome beautiful Howard movement, open face watch on which was engraved "J. P. Doan, from the employees of the Jacksonville Railway & Light Co., June, 1913."

Mr. Doan in turn expressed his deep appreciation to the donors of the beautiful watch and said, that while he regretted to leave the men, all of whom had been loyal to him, he hoped that they would give the new superintendent their hearty cooperation.

Following the presentation of the watch, through the kindness of O. Kuchman, traffic superintendent, a car was provided and all repaired to the Peacock Inn, accepting Mr. Doan's invitation. A visit to the various theaters concluded a very happy evening.
